Distance Learning: Monday, October 18

We are committed to maintaining the video conferencing and productive technology (not just social media) skills your son/daughter learned during the Pandemic. As such, Monday, October 18 - will be a distance learning day. Teachers will be posting work for students to complete as well as short video explanations (in many cases). Students should complete assignments according to regular school schedule and submit work by the time listed on Edmodo/Google Classroom. While, teachers are not live zooming. this is still considered a day of school and attendance will be taken based off of work completed & submitted.

If a student cannot complete the work by the time listed, please e-mail the teacher.

Daycare will not be offered.

While students are working on assignments, teachers will be working on our accreditation report. This is the report we must prepare for the committee that will visit our school in February.
